DETAILED ACTION

1. This application is a 371 of PCT/US00/01553. For applications filed under 371, PCT rules for lack of unity apply.
2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I. Claims 1-3, 6-10, 13, drawn to a method of suppressing ongoing acute allograft rejection, comprising administering an IL-10 antibody.

Group II. Claims 1-2, 4-10, 13, drawn to a method of suppressing ongoing acute allograft rejection, comprising administering an IL-10 receptor antibody.

The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because under PCT Rule 13.2 they lack the same or corresponding special technical feature for the following reasons:

The PCT rules define a special technical feature as a feature which defines a contribution over the prior art. The first claimed invention fails to recite such a feature, since the methods are practiced with materially different products which are structurally and chemically different, the novelty of the inventions lying in the products being administered and not the processes. The only feature in common in the instant inventions is “the method of suppressing ongoing acute allograft rejection”, which does not constitute the special technical feature lacking from the prior art because this method can be used with a composition other than the instant products such as antisense oligonucleotide specific for IL-10 mRNA (see WO 97/31532, abstract). Distinctness is further shown because each of these products in each method can be made and used without any one or more of the other products. The products in the different Groups are physically, chemically and biologically distinct from each other, and if patentable would support separate patents. Furthermore, separate search terms would be required for searching the literature, eg. a search of the literature for an association of a method of suppressing ongoing acute allograft rejection with IL-10 antibody. would not necessarily reveal art for an association of a method of suppressing ongoing acute allograft rejection with IL-10 receptor antibody.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. § 1.17(h).
